10. Teacher Submissions Page:

The diagram illustrates a database schema with two tables: Course and Assignments. The Course table is represented by a light gray rectangle on the left, with a red vertical bar indicating a primary key. The Assignments table is represented by a light gray rectangle on the right, with a red vertical bar indicating a primary key. A red line connects the primary key of the Course table to the primary key of the Assignments table, signifying a one-to-one relationship between the two tables.
